

EDWARDS GETS ATTORNEY AND TRIAL IS SET

Appears in Court Swathed in Bandages. Son Makes Plea for Younger Sister. Trial Is Set for Next Thursday

While their father was being arraigned in Judge Stanford's court on the charge of statutory rape, the minor children of H. C. Edwards appeared in Judge Lyman's court for the hearing of a petition of guardianship.

The hearing was conducted behind closed doors and occupied more than an hour after which Judge Lyman announced that he had made no new order, that the children would remain under the charge of the probator of the court. It is understood that they will be removed from the Edwards home, 602 North Second street.

The Edwards case was set for trial on Thursday. The defendant appeared in court with his head bandaged from the wounds received when he was arrested several days ago. He apparently could hear no better than the previous day and his speech had not improved. His attorney B. E. Marks, declared his condition existed before he came into the case.

Before Edwards appeared in the court room it was a matter of conjecture who would represent him. It was understood that he did not have an attorney and Judge Stanford appointed Gene Cunningham. Later Mr. Marks stated that he would represent Edwards and E. H. Larson will appear in his interests in certain phases of the case.

Mr. Marks asked the court to consider his client's condition before determining the date of the trial. To protect the constitutional rights of Edwards he said he must ask that the trial be set as late a date as possible. He said that it would be unfair to his client in his present condition to be unable to hear the testimony to aid his lawyer. "He has been unable to furnish head and will be in jail," pleaded Mr. Marks.

The court then asked the state when it would be ready to proceed. "I am ready now," answered County Attorney Clyde M. Gandy. "A week from today will be ample time."

"It is not a question of witnesses," said Mr. Marks. "It is not a question of material testimony. It is only that my client be prepared to go through the ordeal of a trial; that he may be able to confront the witnesses and understand all that is going on."

"February 10 is the day set," said Judge Stanford.

In the meantime George Edwards, the eighteen year old son of Edwards was being taken to the hospital. "Will you please make a statement for me in The Republican," he asked. "I am the man of the family now and I have my sisters to consider. They tell me that many people think my little sister Florence, who is only sixteen, is in this case and she is not. It was my married sister before her marriage you know. They shouldn't say things about—about—him and Florence. It isn't true."

Judge J. H. Langston who has taken a friendly interest in the children corroborated the boy's statement.

"I have been present at nearly all the conferences between Edwards and the officers of both the law and the church and particularly those conferences which Edwards has confessed to his criminal conduct and has procured as near as possible all the evidence from other sources of his relations with members of his family. I do not hesitate to say that there has not developed at any time any evidence of his improper relations with his younger daughter. I think this matter should be made clear for her sake."

Miss Anna Fitzia.

New York papers related not long ago how two musical critics engaged in a fist fight while discussing the qualities of Miss Anna Fitzia's voice. This brought Miss Fitzia into the limelight, and now it is announced that Gatti-Casazza, who manages the Metropolitan Opera company, has been converted to the way of thinking of Miss Fitzia's fighting friend, and has given her the role previously played by Lucretia Borgia, the Spanish prima donna, in the Spanish opera "Goyescas."

WILSON SPEEDING

tonic to his nerves. His physician said today that his appetite is good and his rest has been unimpaired. The addresses delivered at the chief stopping places have been apparently as beneficial as his usual game of golf.

At least 100,000 persons, his advisers estimate, heard the president's chief speeches. At least 50,000 more crowded about the rear platform of his car during his five minute talks, though the great majority of these were out of the range of his voice.

Reviewing his trip in his high lights, the president told his audience in St. Louis today that he came away from Washington thinking that the country was with him on the issue of preparedness and is going back knowing that it is with him beyond his greatest hopes. Apparently the president's conviction of this grew with each succeeding day, deepened in Kansas City last night when he asked "would you volunteer?" and receiving a thundering "Yes" from every section of the great convention hall, and reached its climax from the demonstration at St. Louis today when he told an audience which cheered him tumultuously, that the United States ought to have "incomparably the greatest navy in the world."

Not the "Biggest" Nor the "Greatest," Possibly But a Genuine White Sale

That Will Attract the Intelligent, Reasonable Buyers to the "Popular"

Phoenix, Ariz., February 4, 1916.

LADIES OF PHOENIX, TEMPE, MESA, GLENDALE, ETC.

You have known me for a good many years. You know I never exaggerate values. You know I am always adhering to the strictest truth in my advertisements. So when I say that this is not the "biggest" white sale in Phoenix, I mean it. Nor have we the largest stock—not by any means. But I do claim that no store in Phoenix will offer you white merchandise of equal merit at prices as low as we sell it during this sale. The reason for it is "PREPAREDNESS." Months ago, when cottons were low, we purchased undermuslins. And the cost of doing business here being low, is another reason for our ability to quote lower prices than others.

YOU GET THE SAVINGS

I repeat, this advertisement is truthful in every respect, but it does not do justice to the stock, quality, values and the surprises I have in store for you. You must come and see them with your own eyes. My word for it, you will not be disappointed
